The smart aquarium

EASY AQUARIUM CONTROL

The ideal multi-purpose accessory: Not only is the aquarium making a comeback as a modern design object, it is also a smart, high-tech product. OASE's own "Easy Aquarium Control" system offers you numerous possibilities to illuminate and stage your underwater world as if it were actually in nature — with a convenient and easy-to-use app.

Perfectly staged lighting

HIGHLINE PREMIUM LED

The HighLine Premium LED is waterproof and its intelligent power management ensures that the diodes have a long service life at a constant brightness, offering optimal support to help your plants grow. In addition, you can simulate an almost unlimited number of light colours, including having multiple colours at different places along the LED. You can also configure your own daily schedule or use pre-set lighting and weather scenarios.

Everything under control

EAC CONTROLLER

The Controller is the heart of the system, keeping the connected EAC devices running smoothly. Even when you're on holiday or on the move, the system will keep you updated before your underwater world gets out of balance. OASE is constantly working to improve the EAC system and their regular app updates mean that you always have access to the latest developments.

Smart control at home and on the move

YOUR APP FOR ANDROID AND IOS

Adjust the lighting effect from the comfort of your living room or check that everything is in order when you're on the move. The convenient, intelligent app gives you access to your EAC system at any time and from anywhere.

Feel the current

STREAMMAX PREMIUM + PUMP CONTROLLER

With the StreamMax Premium pump and the corresponding Pump Controller, you can also generate natural water movements for your aquarium's inhabitants. These can be selected from a variety of pre-configured settings or set up manually.

The pump can be configured for customised daily schedules when connected to the EAC system, including pausing the flow to allow for feeding. This allows the marine animals to eat at their leisure and in good water quality, as the food does not break down and drift away.

Getting to know OASE

Getting to know OASE means heading out into the countryside. More specifically, it means paying a visit to Germany's Tecklenburger Land, a region blessed with a plentiful supply of water in the form of canals, peat bogs and wetlands. These surroundings are crucial because water is at the heart of our business. With water, we are truly in our element: it is the focus of our research and development, the touchstone of our business activities and the living environment we create. With water as a common thread, we design stylish aquariums featuring the latest technology for novices and professionals alike. We take our inspiration from nature, our customers and the aquatic animals themselves. Day in, day out.
